TO MARY--FOR SOME FLOWERS.

I thank thee, Mary, for thy gift
Of fair and fragrant flowers,
The harbingers of summer days,
And sunny gilded hours;
I thank thee, for the gentle thought—
Which makes the gift to me,
More precious than the richest gems
That lie beneath the sea.

WATERLOO, (Clark co.) Mo., May 25, 1855.

FRIEND MOREY:—In pursuance of a promise to you and many friends, to give you a description of the part of Missouri in which I stop; I, according to the best of my ability, give you what I know of Clark county; its claims upon emigration; situation, facilities for agriculture, fertility of its soil, climate, health of its citizens, &c. Situated as it is at the northeast corner of the State, with Iowa on the north and Illinois on the south, bounded on two sides by free States, it has consequently not improved so rapidly as some other counties of less fertility and facilities for transportation, from the fact that southern men who owned slaves would not come here, because they would be too close to two free States, while eastern and northern preferred Iowa or Illinois; and it was from these circumstances that this portion of Missouri has, until within the last few years, been settled only by men without capital, though things have now taken a more happy change. Enterprising men seeing lands of the very best soil and having facilities for transportation greatly superior to others which were selling for double price asked for lands in this county, have made investments, and lands which two years ago sold for two and two-and-a-half dollars per acre, are now selling for five dollars, and those which are improved very readily command ten and twelve dollars per acre, and some farms have been sold for twenty and twenty-five per acre, while there are thousands of acres which can be bought for five dollars, and only require improvement to make them as valuable; and while the soil is very productive, the broad Mississippi is ever ready to transport to one of the best inland markets in the United States the products of our soil at a very small per cent. upon its value.

Rearing cattle is an extensive business and may be increased greatly to the profit of the speculator, as the widespread prairies furnish the most luxuriant grass free of cost, while a small sum only is required to have sufficient amount of hay cut to winter a large herd of cattle. Cattle fatten very fast on the wild grass—from three to five months grazing will make beef of four year olds. A lot of two year old cattle can be bought for twelve dollars per head, and as grazing costs nothing, it is only the wintering of stock that puts the owner to any cost, which will not exceed four dollars per head for two winters, and which will enable the buyer of two year olds to own four year old cattle at a cost of sixteen dollars; which by the first of the succeeding August will make beef weighing six hundred pounds. A capital of three thousand dollars—one-third invested in a farm, and the remainder in cattle, will with attention pay thirty-three per cent., and a larger amount can be invested to as good advantage. Mules can be bought for twenty-five per cent. less than the same quality can in your county, and grazed and fed here at the same per cent. less. Labor is very high. Mechanics command from $1.50 to $2 per day. The climate is but little cooler than that of the northern part of Ky. Health is generally as good here as in any part of your State. I have not heard of nor seen the first case of chills and fevers since I have been in the country, and although we cannot boast of many beautiful villages or towns, (none to compare with Cynthiana,) still, young men of small means can make it to their interest to come west, and when that is the move, Clark county has as many inducements as any other portion of the west, from the fact that he can here find lands at half the cost which he will have to pay for lands of the same advantages for agriculture, stock raising, safe and convenient transporting purposes in any other section. Here young men of professional talents and business qualifications can easily and quickly get into lucrative employment. Men of every class can find employment which will pay them well, in a peaceable and intelligent community. I think Clark county offers every inducement, especially to southern emigration.

The cure of a chronic case of dyspepsia, is a serious undertaking by ordinary modes of treatment, yet we ourselves, know of more than one case, of from seven to ten years standing, which do actually seem to be cured by the use of these waters alone, and there are very many of our citizens, who profess themselves greatly benefited by their use, in disease of the digestive organs. We could and we would give a more detailed account of some of these cases, if we were describing a watering place, but as we are not, we will not, we will merely say to the sick and those interested for them, that the facts, to which we have alluded are of common notoriety in this county, and any further information concerning them can be easily obtained.

Either this is a most wonderful fountain of health, or else a very large number of intelligent persons have deluded themselves into a belief of imaginary cures effected upon their own persons. Our own confidence in its virtues, is as firm as it can be, and we have no doubt this will some day render our town as great a place of summer resort, as any of the baths of the old world.—George Town Journal.

A meeting was held at Manayunk, Pa., on Thursday, in favor of an open American organization.

THE Cynthiana News.

THE CYNTHIANA NEWS.

Our Millersburgh Correspondence

[Correspondence of the Cynthiana News.]

MILLERSBURGH, June 11, 1855.

MR. EDITOR.—I send myself to address Bourne's No. 2 to the News; since my last many have been the conjectures among the Sag-Nichts as to who was its author; but none of Sam's boys know. It has been thought by some that could the author be discovered, the auto da fe of the Sag-Nichts would be put in operation—in the exercise of the guillotine argument. Oaths and anathemas have been uttered against the individual who would dare to assail the dearest interests of ancient democracy. We propose in No. 2 to notice the difference between Romanism and Catholicism. I am aware that the term Catholic is generally given to and claimed by the adherents of the Romish Church; but it is a strict subversion of the term, and is very inaptly applied. Therefore, the Romish Church is not Catholic. The word Catholic implies liberal, not bigoted; and thus we say, Catholic, or liberal principles. But the Romish is not a liberal Church, and therefore is not Catholic. Has not the Romish Church universally denounced those of an opposite faith as heretics? Where do we find the very root, gall and bitterness of bigotry? Where is an institution in which the blood stains of persecution to all other creeds are so plainly discernible. Travel back to the horrifying scenes of the Inquisition, and see if you cannot find Revelations fulfilled: "And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the Saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus; and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration." Now who can doubt that this verse is a direct Revelation of those cruelties exercised by the Romish Church against all it denominates heretics. But again, who is this "Mystery, Babylon the Great, the Mother of Harlots, and abominations of the earth?" Certainly the Romish Church, for truly she is a mystery of iniquity. Babylon the great, the ancient city, it is well known, was noted for idolatry and cruelty; and the Romish Church is an exact anti-type of the ancient Babylon. Go into her churches and see her devotees bowing before images, and worshipping the saints, instead of the God of them. She affects the name of the Holy Mother Church; but is indeed the "mother of harlots, and abominations of the earth." The Romish Church has in the most shameful manner abounded in blasphemous appellations, and have arrogated to themselves the most sacred titles; and her priesthood even applied names to themselves which belong only to God; for God has said that he "will not give his glory to another, neither his praise to graven images." Popery is a power exercised by a monarch called a Pope over the religious denominations known as Roman Catholics, and extends so far that the subjects of this domineering Pontiff believe that they owe more allegiance to his Papal Majesty's authority, as the vice-regent of God, than they do to the government under which they reside; and were he in conclave to issue an edict for a public revolt, they would undertake it all hazards, consoling themselves that if death be their fate they died as Glorious Martyrs. The Pope has the power vested in him by the Romish Church to demand the presence of his Bishops and Prelates at Rome, and there to imprison them in dungeons. But has the U. S. government power to do this, of which they may be sworn subjects? and supposing a Methodist or Episcopal Bishop, in conducting their ministerial operations, were to incur the censure of their respective churches, and be excommunicated, would the government of the U. S. have any power guaranteed constitutionally or morally, to take and confine that person in a prison? None. But yet his honor the Pope can command a citizen of the U. S. to Rome, and throw him into a dungeon, because perhaps he refused to receive an article of faith, some inconsistent dogma, promulgated from the Papal throne. It is generally believed that Bishop Reese of Detroit, is confined in a dungeon at Rome, because of non-concurrence with some of the ecclesiastical discipline of the Papal Church. Why don't the administration institute inquiry and assert the rights of Bishop Reese to American citizenship, and demand him of the Pope? Didn't they make a great ado about Koszta? Let's have fair play, and defend one citizen as well as another.—Sincerely do I believe and endeavor to practice the doctrines inculcated by the Christian Church, derived from that best of books, the Bible; but I am heartily opposed to the connexion of any church with State. I believe that the tendency of the Romish power is to undermine our institutions, and upon the ruins of Republican liberties, to rear "Her mystery, Babylon the great."

Our forefathers did not fight the battles of the Revolution, brave the dangers and toils of that conflict, so much for the benefits that would accrue to them personally, but they took into account the blessings they would confer on posterity. They fought to hand down future generations those blessings which we now enjoy, and which we seek to protect from their greatest foe—"Political Romanism." Every American and Christian should see the necessity of the movement to check the inroads which Romanism is making on our liberties, and may the cry soon resound, "Babylon the Great is Fallen."

BOURBON.

CLARKE ON THE METHODISTS.—Mr. Clark made a speech at Cloverport on the 22d, and a correspondent at that place says: "In conversation with some gentlemen after the speech, Mr. C. made the remark that all the members of the Methodist church are Abolitionists." If Mr. Clarke can gain anything by such a scurilous charge against the Methodists, let him gain it. The soundness of the Methodist Church South as to slavery is not proved by the unhappy separation between the Church South and the Church North, we do not know what can be deemed necessary.—Lou. Journal.

NEW ORLEANS, June 12.

By the arrival of the steamer Orizaba we have advices from Mexico to the 2d inst. Santa Anna had taken possession of Zamora, which the revolutionists left on his approach. He pursued them, and entirely routed them, taking two thousand and prisoners. Santa Anna then returned to Morelia on the 21st ult., and left again on the 23d for Aris, where another revolutionary leader was posted with two thousand five hundred men. Several leaders of small revolutionary parties were in the South.

WASHINGTON, June 12.

The Star says that intelligence has been received that a revenue cutter has brought into Mobile the bark belonging to the Kinney expedition, loaded with ammunition. The same paper asserts that, if Kinney succeeds in reaching Nicaragua, the Government is prepared to take care of him there.

PORTLAND, Me., June 12.

Neal Dow, the Mayor of this town, has made an official report to the City Council, touching the recent riot. He asserts that, but for the measures taken, the city agency would have been set fire to, and the City Hall been destroyed. The Board of Aldermen endorse this statement.

NEW YORK, June 12.

The steamer San Jacinto arrived here this afternoon. She left Havana on the 1st and Key West on the 7th inst. The Jamestown was at Key West, and was to sail on the 9th for the coast of Africa.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.

The K. N. Convention was engaged to-day in discussing the naturalization laws.

The Platform Committee has made a final report, which will be considered as soon as the naturalization question is disposed of.

NEW YORK, June 12.

The Police last evening made a descent on the brig Teazer, lying at Brooklyn, and found fifty recruits for the foreign legion and three agents on board of her.

The Know-Nothing National Platform Report of the Platform Committee.

NEW YORK, Tuesday, June 12.

The Tribune this morning publishes the majority and minority reports of the Platform Committee of the National Know-Nothing Convention, presented yesterday.

The majority report is in favor of the existing laws on slavery, and declares that Congress has no power under the Constitution to legislate upon the subject, or to exclude a State because of its admitting or rejecting slavery; that Congress ought not to legislate upon the subject of slavery in the Territories, or in the district of Columbia, and that any interference with the latter would violate the compact by which Maryland ceded the District to the United States, and would be a breach of national faith.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.

E. B. Bartlett, of Kentucky, was elected President of the Know-Nothing Convention last night. The vote stood, Bartlett 90; Barker 56. C. D. Morrow, of Pennsylvania, Vice-President, and Hemy Crane, of Ohio, Secretary.

[Mr. Bartlett is also President of the State Council of Kentucky. He was a delegate to the Baltimore Convention which nominated Pierce for President.]

The crops promise an abundant yield throughout the State.

HON. CHARLES S. MOREHEAD, OF FRANKLIN,

A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

As we anticipated from the character of the intelligence in regard to Judge Loving's health which was communicated by the Bowling-Green Standard last week, and republished by us in our issue of Wednesday, that gentleman has again declined the candidacy for the office of Governor, and the Hon. Charles S. Morehead, of Franklin, has received the nomination of the Executive Committee of the American party in his stead. Mr. Morehead, we understand, will at once enter upon the canvass of the State, and will address the people from this time until the election in as many counties as the remaining time will allow him to visit.

It is not necessary that we should say one word in regard to Mr. Morehead.—He is so widely known throughout the State as a gentleman of superior talents and attainments, a lawyer of unsurpassed ability, and a statesman of enlarged and comprehensive views, that his nomination will be hailed with acclamation by the friends of the American cause as the very best that could be made. The Executive Committee of the American party, to whom was entrusted the power of supplying any vacancies in the State ticket that might occur, have justly entitled themselves to the thanks of every friend of the principles the Order is designed to promote, by presenting the name of a gentleman so perfectly acceptable, and who will carry the State by a majority such as will astonish all.

We place his name at the head of our columns, and our only cause of regret in the whole matter is that Mr. Loving should from continued and severe ill health have been forced to abandon a position which was so honorably conferred upon him, and to which he was so justly entitled from his high character as a man, and his ability as a statesman.

Observer & Reporter.

KNOW NOTHINGISM.—Hitherto we have said but very little on the subject of Know Nothingism, further than to express our views of the subject in general, and to warn our Anti-Slavery friends against being deceived by the fair speeches of this order, we may hereafter devote a little more space to the subject in giving extracts to show those who still are inclined to believe that Know Nothingism is the power that will destroy slavery, that so far from this being the case, that society ignores the subject of slavery in all its parts.

We clip this from the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Standard, a violent and reckless Abolition sheet. It is only an echo of the sentiment expressed by every Abolition paper in the Union. What do the Democrats of Kentucky think of such motley allies? There is now arrayed against the American Union party a Babylon host equal to the tattered, shirtless, gibbed-like army of "Jean Jack,"—Germans, Abolitionists, Irishmen, Disunionists, Southern hot-heads, Fillibusters, Free negroes, Priests and Popes.—Elkton (Ky.) Banner.

Crush It Out.—The order of the Pope to Archbishop Hughes is to CRUSH OUT REPUBLICANISM! Here is an extract from the letter of Pope Pius to John Hughes, on his late departure from Rome to return to the United States:

"IF OUR CHURCH IS TO LIVE, IT MUST BE IN AMERICA. Goverments and States are tottering here. Everything is uncertain. Another year and a revolution may have swept all away. My good Archbishop, I look to you for the future. SPREAD ROMANISM IN AMERICA. CRUSH OUT REPUBLICANISM. THE CHURCH MAY BEFORE A MONTH FLEE TO YOUR SHORES."

WHICH IS THE ABOLITION PARTY?

The Anti-American party, at the South, which falsely and without any right assumes the name of Democratic, is perpetually reiterating the charge against its antagonist, the American party, that it is Abolitionist—inimical to the institution of slavery, and the rights of the South, therein. We have repeatedly exposed the falsehood and injustice of this charge; and, yet, our opponents, in this county, continue to re-assert it, as confidently, as if we had not nailed it to the counter, as a political lie. We have borne with the arrogance and insolence of our opponents, in reiterating this calumny on the fair fame of the American party, until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. We now hurl the charge back into the teeth of our opponents; and distinctly charge and assert, that the falsely so called Democratic party, in the South, is an anti-Southern, and Abolitionist, as well as an anti-American faction—the ally of the most rabid Abolitionist, of the most invertebrate enemies of the South. We make this charge deliberately and advisedly; and will sustain it by facts and arguments, which we defend our opponents to gainsay.

From whence has Abolitionism, at the North, heretofore, acquired its strength, its power to do mischief? From one source, alone; and that has been FOREIGN EMIGRATION, clothed with political power by NATURALIZATION! Before Europe began to empty the millions of her surplus population into the free States of the North, political Abolitionism was unknown, as a disturbing element in our political system. That dangerous fanaticism, which has so long threatened the dissolution of the Union, dates its rise from the commencement of that enormous influx of foreigners, which for twenty years has been flowing into the North, with constantly increasing volume. Before that period, the North and the South, left to grow by the natural gradual increase of their own native populations, but slightly affected by accessions from abroad, marched on together in equality and harmony; the equilibrium of numbers and political power, between the two sections of the Union, undisturbed; equally potential in the Federal government; and mutually respecting each other and each others' rights.

When was it that Northern Abolitionism and Northern superiority of numbers, first began to disturb the happy equilibrium, and threaten the South with political subjugation and the overthrow of the institution of Slavery? It was when the great tide of Irish and German emigration began to break upon our shores, and the North began to feel that she was gaining upon the South, in population and consequent political power. That emigration has been the chief source of all the wrongs and dangers of the South during the past twenty years.

These hosts of foreign emigrants have chiefly located in the North, and continue to locate there. They are generally prejudiced against the South, and avoid it. The consequence has been that the North has been steadily gaining upon the South, in population; and, consequently, in her representative force in Congress, and her influence in the National government. That gain in political power, on the part of the North, has proved, at once, the temptation and the means to incite and enable her to threaten and innovate upon the institutions and rights of the South. The possession of superior power is in its nature corrupting; it ever tends to abuse—to tyranny. What patriot, either North or South, has not noticed, with alarm and regret, the haughty, despotic and threatening tone which the North has been of late years assuming towards the South and Southern institutions, inflated as she was with the consciousness of a vast and ever increasing superiority of numbers, derived from foreign emigration.

sificance, in the Federal Union, to a state of hopeless political weakness and degradation, holding her institutions and constitutional rights, at the sufferance of an overwhelming and fanatical majority at the North.

What is the policy of the anti-American party at the South? It is uncompromising opposition to the checks on foreign emigration and naturalization, which the American party proposes—it is, to sanction, encourage and perpetuate that enormous influx of foreign voters into the North, which has already thrown the South into a minority of numbers, and threatens the annihilation of her power and influence in the confederacy. Let them come, and swell the already inflated population of the North, until she shall outnumber the South, ten to one, says this boasted Jeffersonian, Democratic, State rights, and PAR EXCELLENCE SOUTHERN party!

This is the kind of support which this immaculate Southern party gives to the interests and institutions of the South—it strives with all its might to swell the ranks of the rival and enemy of the South, at the rate of half a million of souls a year! This is the party which the South is expected to cherish—a party whose sole policy is to aid in reducing her to political insignificance, by continuing the importation of the foreign legions which are hereafter to complete her subjugation. If this is not pure, unmitigated Abolitionism, we confess that we don't know the meaning of that term.

What is political Abolitionism? It does not consist in mere denunciations of slavery; but, in any line of policy that threatens the security of the institution of slavery. What more effectual means could be used to imperil the rights of the South in her slave property than to annually augment the ranks of the enemies of slavery and Southern rights, by the accession of half a million of foreigners?

This is the aim and policy of the anti-American party at the South; and, therefore, it is an Abolitionist faction; its policy is Abolitionist; if it shall succeed, it will accomplish more for the increase and triumph of Abolitionism, than all the Garrisons and Greeleys of the North combined.

We learn that Daniel King died on Sunday last, at his residence in this county, of small pox.

ANOTHER REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER GONE. WILLIAM SAUNDERS, a soldier in the Revolutionary war, died at the residence of NATHAN HUNT, in this county, on the 10th inst. Mr. SAUNDERS was a private in the South Carolina troops, under the command of Gen. MORGAN, and participated in the battles of the Cowpens and King's Mountain. He was aged ninety four years.

On last Saturday morning we received the following dispatch from Frankfort:

Frankfort, Ky., June 9.
The Executive Committee have nominated CHARLES S. MOREHEAD, of Franklin, as the American candidate for Governor, in place of W. V. LOVING, who declined on account of continued ill health.

Bob Williams, the fearless editor of the Winchester Chronicle, gives the following pen-portrait of Bailey, the editor of the Newport News. After copying the denial of Stanton's Express that Bailey was not an abolitionist, did not vote for Cassius M. Clay, &c., he says:

Nevertheless we know that BAILY is an abolitionist—that he did support Cassius M. Clay for Governor—and that he was or pretended to be, the editor of the News at that time. As for the latter part of the paragraph, referring to the late canvass in Newport, we were not there at the time, but take Mr. STANTON's word for it; though if BAILY did express his disapprobation, as therein stated it was not through "manliness," for there is not a particle of that in him. In plain terms, he is the most contemptible puppy and the greatest liar in the State—an infidel—a disgrace to Newport—a disgrace to the craft, and a disgrace to humanity!

RESIGNED.—Peter Kramer, Esq., has resigned the office of Jailer of Harrison county. Cause—didn't pay expenses.—Mr. Kramer was an efficient officer.—The County Judge has appointed John W. Dills, to fill the vacancy.

Our young friend HARVEY C. IRELAND, Constable elect, has assumed the duties of his office, and donned the saddle-bags. Look out, delinquent Sag-Nichts and K. N.'s. The country is safe!

On Monday last, there was considerable stock sold in our streets, at very fair prices. We noticed a lot of good two year old mules which sold for $92 50 per head.

We daily receive the most cheering news from Bracken county. It will give 500 majority for the entire American ticket.

GARRETT, SPEARS & CO., of Paris, advertise their second importation of Dry Goods made this Spring. Give them a call. They also advertise for 100,000 lbs. Wool, for which they will pay merchandise or cash.

SEND BACK THAT COW.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Rev. Jedediah Foster, headed "Strayed." Any person returning said cow, will confer a favor on a worthy and pious man, and be liberally rewarded. If we knew her whereabouts, we would return her, and not charge a cent!

Dr. A. K. MARSHALL delivered a speech at our court-house in this place last Monday. He was quite happy in the effort, and has produced an enthusiasm in his favor that has terrified the Sag Nichts.

Mr. JAS. O. HARRISON followed him in a short appeal; and he was followed by Mr. HUGH NEWELL, the former a candidate for Congress in this district, and the latter a candidate for the Legislature on the Sag Nichts ticket.

R. H. FORRESTER, Esq., answered Mr. Newell, and effectively used up the old war-horse—routed him horse, foot and dragoons; and it is thought the gallant old captain will be more cautious in future, especially if Mr. Forrester is about.

GENERAL JACKSON A NATIVE AMERICAN.

Old Hickory was a decided Native in his political feelings and opinions. He vetoed the United States Bank because its stock was chiefly held by foreigners; and he considered there was danger of its foreign stockholders influencing our elections, through the monied power of the Bank.

He was decidedly opposed to foreign influence and rule, in our politics. He could not endure that foreign capitalists should have the power to control our elections. And, yet, his pretended followers are in favor of the Pope of Rome, a foreign despot, exerting a similar control over our elections by means of the foreign Catholic vote, which is cast in servile submission to the mandates of his Holiness and the Jesuits. These pretended Jackson Democrats dont entertain that jealousy and abhorrence of foreign interference, in our elections, which were felt by General Jackson.

Virginia was not wholly lost to us at the recent election. The election of Carlisle, the American candidate in the 11th district, appears to be conceded.—Millson was elected from the Norfolk district. Judge Bayley and Mr. Smith, better known as "Extra Billy," also repudiated any connection with the Administration, but are re-chosen by overwhelming majorities.

We have been visited by copious showers of rain, at various intervals during the last week.

We learn that Daniel King died on Sunday last, at his residence in this county, of small pox.

To the Temperance Men of Harrison.

CYNTHIANA, Ky., June 12th 1855.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: The self-styled Democratic party of this county has brought out as one of their candidates for a seat in the lower branch of our next State Legislature, Capt. HUGH NEWELL, and expect to receive your suffrages for him. This expectation is based upon the pretensions of Capt. NEWELL to be a Temperance man. Now, gentlemen, let us examine into the Temperance professions of the Captain, and see if his works, his actions, will justify his pretensions—if he has acted towards the Temperance men of Harrison county in such a manner as to justify them in giving him their suffrages.

Early in the spring of 1853, a convention of the friends of Temperance assembled in Cynthiana, for the purpose of selecting candidates to make the race, at the ensuing August election, for the Legislature. Capt. NEWELL and Dr. JOSEPH H. HAWKINS were the gentlemen selected to make that race. Capt. NEWELL, in a letter declining the proffered honor, and which letter was published in the Cynthiana News, gives as one reason for his declination, that his "age and domestic relations forbid that he should further engage in the political contests of the day." He stated to the committee that waited upon him, informing him of his nomination, and requesting him to accept said nomination, that if he should ever hereafter offer for office, it would be as their nominee, but he did not wish to make the, then, present race.

At a convention that assembled in the court-house in Cynthiana, on the 20th of November, 1854, for the purpose of sending delegates to the State convention that met in Louisville on the 13th of December last, Capt. NEWELL not only declined participating in that convention, but refused to act as its President; refused to serve on any committee, or take ANY PART in the action of that convention, save as a looker-on in Venice."

We merely state these facts so that our friends may know what kind of a Temperance man the Democrats are endeavoring to make them swallow. It will not do for the Temperance men to put any trust in the promises of politicians, for they are as spacious as the firmament, and as hollow as the space between heaven and earth, from the significant fact that they believe WHISKEY can command more votes than MORALITY.

Yours, &c. TEMPERANCE.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday, the 22d ult., by Rev. J. R. Barbee, Mr. J. A. LAUGHERTY, to Miss FRANCES E. HENRY, all of this county.

We are happy to learn that Bro. Barbee is not only a good preacher, but can tie the marital knot in a MINIT'. We expect, in time, little fellows' will CRY FOR TEA instead of LAUGH FOR TEA.

DIED,

At his residence in Harrison county, Ky., on the 13th day of May, 1855, JOHN WAITS, Esq., at the age of 76 years.

Mr. WAITS was born in Pennsylvania, but has resided in this county for 70 years. As a citizen, neighbor and friend, he was surpassed by none. His funeral was attended by a large number of his fellow-citizens.

In this place, on Tuesday evening, at 10 o'clock, suddenly, of disease of the heart, Mrs. MARY JANE KELLAR, wife of Mr. John A. KELLAR, and daughter of the late Thomas Rankin.

Mrs. KELLAR was aged about 37 years, and leaves a bereaved husband and six children and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her untimely loss.

In August, Ky., on the 6th inst., of Pneumonia, Mrs. MARY VEACH, in the 57th year of her age, relict of the late David Veach, of this vicinity.

Again do we mourn, for the desolating footsteps of death have been heard in our midst, and he hath taken from society an example, an ornament; from the Church a Christian and a true member, and from her own the loved and idolized center. Surely, this world would be very, very cold and cheerless, and our pilgrimage here very hapless, if there were not upon it some few beings who like her are destitute of those selfish feelings which are too likely to interpose when our better emotions would lead us to be kind and just to our fellow-men. It is by such acts as hers and, such evidences of goodness of heart as evinced by her, that we learn that this world is not all baseness and corruption, and we see reflected from them some of that purity and goodness which is to constitute their whole character, in that state of existence to which we are all rapidly passing, far away beyond the silent vale of death; and where such associations exist, man may sincerely thank heaven for his existence, for it is indeed a blessing.—But society bereft entirely of such beings, would be not desirable. The loss to society is grievous, but to her family irreparable.

The gentle tones of that voice that lent encouragement to all around her is still, and no voice on earth is like it; no tones like those of a mother's voice, but will it not come back to them again? In the stillness of the night will they not hear sighing in Aeolian strains and still bidding them be encouraged and just in the battle of life. The hearth-stone—oh! how desolate; it will never again be pressed by those gentle footsteps that so oft have crossed it in its dispensations of the comforts and blessings of life; and will not those near it be startled sometimes by the thought that they hear those steps again?

But the gentle tones of that voice that lent encouragement to all around her is still, and no voice on earth is like it; then, that we cannot compete with them? The only conclusive answer is, that we can and will. All we ask is a fair trial.

We pledge ourselves to give every one who thinks proper to deal with us satisfaction as to the quality and price of our articles.

CAMP MEETING ANECDOTE.—At a camp meeting, a number of ladies continued standing on the benches, notwithstanding frequent hints from the minister to sit down. A reverend old gentleman, noted for his good humor, arose and said:

'I think if these ladies standing on the benches knew they had holes in their stockings, they would sit down!'

This address had the desired effect—there was an immediate sinking into the seats. A young minister, standing behind, and blushing to the temples, said:

'Oh, brother, how could you say that? Say that?' said the old gentleman; 'it's a fact. If they hadn't holes in their stockings, I'd like to know how they get them on?'
